Convocation at Carleton University

The Convocation ceremony (the calling together of the academic assembly) has its roots in university traditions of medieval Europe.

The Mace

The mace is a staff symbolizing authority. In the days of knighthood, it was a weapon, but after the 16th century it became solely a symbol of authority carried by a distinguished member of an assembly. It is used on ceremonial occasions to signify the right of an individual or institution to perform a certain function—in the case of universities, to grant degrees.

At Convocation, the mace is carried ahead of the Chancellor as he enters and leaves each ceremony. (Marshal of Convocation H.H.J. Nesbitt has performed this function for all but one of the University's Convocations.) During the ceremony the mace is displayed on a special stand as an embodiment of the authority of the University.

Carleton's mace was presented to the University in 1976 as a gift from the Chairman of the Board of Governors at that time, Mr. Hyman Soloway. It is a silver-plated staff approximately three feet long. At the upper end there is a bowl marked with the University's coat of arms and the University motto in both Latin and English—"Opera Nobis Aeterna" and "Ours the Task Eternal." From the upper portion of the bowl rises a phoenix. Traditional oak leaves surround the lower end of the staff.

Coat of Arms

Carleton University's coat of arms is described in heraldic terms as follows: "On a field sable; in radiants d'argent, a maple leaf gules charged with an open book; crest—a phoenix propre." It is comprised of a black shield bearing an open book on a red maple leaf surrounded by silver rays. The shield is surmounted by a phoenix, and below the shield is a scroll bearing the motto "Ours the Task Eternal."

The open book on the maple leaf signifies that Carleton University is in the nation's capital and that learning is open to all who wish to partake of it. The radiants are the light of learning. The phoenix, the legendary eternal bird, symbolizes the renewing of learning from older foundations, in recognition of Henry Marshall Tory's role in the founding of the University when he was 82 years old. "Ours the Task Eternal" is taken from a Walt Whitman poem entitled "Pioneers" and ties in with the eternal quality of the phoenix.

And so, the Carleton University coat of arms symbolizes sound learning, good citizenship, and the highest hopes of humanity.

The Diploma

The diploma the graduates receive at Convocation is the certificate of qualification which publishes the fact that the student has fulfilled all the requirements and completed the prescribed course of study for the degree. As the senior academic legislative body of the University, it is the Senate which has determined whether the requirements have been met. The signatures of both the Chancellor and the President of the University appear on the diploma: the Chancellor because of his role in conferring the degree, and the President who, as Chair of Senate, certifies that Senate has enacted the required motion to award the degree. The Seal of the University is affixed to the diploma as a mark of authentication.

Academic Dress

The academic dress of Carleton University is a compromise between that found in the ancient foundations of Britain and Canada and the American Intercollegiate Code. All three hoods—bachelor's, master's, and doctor's — are of the simple or Oxford shape. Bachelor's is made of black stuff; master's and doctor's are made of black silk and all are lined with silver silk with two chevrons, one of red and one of black. From bachelor's to doctor's the hoods are progressively longer and opened to show more and more of the lining.

The velvet border of the hoods denotes the degrees granted according to the following colour combinations: architecture is cerise; arts is white; commerce is camel brown; computer science is royal blue; engineering is orange; industrial design is dark cardinal; journalism is white with a black cord sewn slightly in from the lower border; management studies is camel brown with a black cord sewn slightly in from the lower border; music is venetian pink; public administration is peacock blue; science is golden yellow; social work is cream; and doctor of philosophy is purple.

The bachelor's gown, to be worn with the above hoods, is of full length, made of black stuff, with a gathered yolk behind, and long open-fronted sleeves. The master's gown is of full style, made of black silk or rayon, with full gathered yolk behind, and closed sleeves with an opening at the elbows. The doctoral gown is the same style as the master's, made of fine royal blue cloth with facings of light blue silk.

The gown of the Honorary Doctor of Laws, Literature, Science, and Engineering is a full robe with bell-shaped sleeves, made of fine royal blue cloth with facings and sleeves in light blue silk. The hood is made of the same material as the gown, has the same lining as that for degrees by examination, and is bordered with dark mauve for the degree Doctor of Laws; vibrant blue for the degree Doctor of Literature; red for the degree Doctor of Science; and orange for the degree Doctor of Engineering.

The Presiding Officer of Convocation is the Chancellor of the University, Arthur Kroeger, O.C., M.A., LL.D.

Recipients of Honorary Degrees

Priscilla Tyler, M.A., Ph.D.

Dr. Priscilla Tyler, educator and advocate of Aboriginal, African and Caribbean literature and art, will be awarded the degree of Doctor of Laws, honoris causa, at the morning ceremony on Thursday, June 17, "in recognition of a distinguished contribution, as an educator, an enlightened collector and a generous benefactor, to a better understanding and appreciation of aboriginal cultures of North America and, more particularly, of Inuit art."

Dr. Tyler started her distinguished career in education by teaching in the Cleveland Public School system for 10 years after completing her B.A. at Radcliffe in the early 1930s. She then returned to formal study, completing her M.A. in Education and her Ph.D. in English at Case Western Reserve University, where she received her first university teaching appointment. She left Cleveland in 1958, and held the positions of Assistant Professor at the Harvard Graduate School of Education and Associate Professor at the University of Illinois before becoming a full professor at the University of Missouri at Kansas City (UMKC) in 1968.

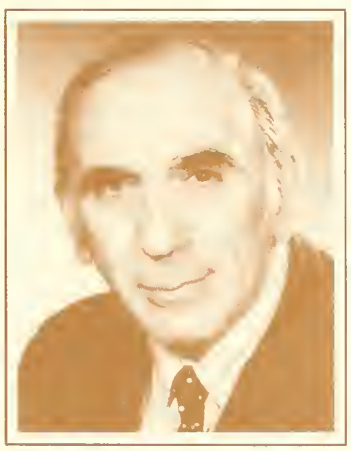
In the subsequent decade, Dr. Tyler travelled extensively through the Caribbean and Africa, developing both her interest and contacts in the literature of those areas. She organized the African/Caribbean Institute at UMKC in 1973, and the Non-Western Humanities Seminars for the Nova Scotia Summer School in 1974 and 1975, and created curriculum in those areas for UMKC.

On her numerous trips to the Canadian Arctic, Alaska and Greenland in the 1970s she formed a unique collection of art that celebrates the culture of the Aboriginal people of Canada's North.

The renowned Nigerian author Chinua Achebe has dedicated his book Morning Yet on Creation Day to her, and Jamaican poet and author Andrew Salkey won the United Nations Poetry Award for "Spliced (For Priscilla Tyler)."

Maxwell Cohen, O.C., Q.C., B.A., LL.B., LL.M., D.C.L., LL.D.

Maxwell Cohen, Professor of Law and Scholar in Residence at the University of Ottawa, will be awarded the degree of Doctor of Laws, honoris causa, at the afternoon ceremony on Thursday, June 17, "in recognition of a distinguished contribution to the legal profession, Canadian public life, and international jurisprudence as a teacher, scholar, and public practitioner in the fields of constitutional and international law."



Born in Winnipeg, Professor Cohen took his B.A. and LL.B. at the University of Manitoba, and was called to the Bar of Manitoba in 1939. He is also a member of the Bar of Québec, and was the Dean of the Faculty of Law at McGill University from 1964 to 1969. He has been Emeritus Professor of law at McGill since 1978. From 1980 to 1983 he was Adjunct Professor of law and international affairs at Carleton.

He has made many contributions to both the legal profession and the public life of Canada. He has been the Chair of various Royal Commissions and Task Forces for the federal and provincial governments, and played a leadership role in many professional associations. He has been President of the Canadian Branch of the International Law Association, a founding member of the Canadian Human Rights Foundation, a member of the Canadian delegation to the 14th General Assembly of the United Nations, and a contributing foreign affairs editor to Saturday Night magazine.

Professor Cohen is the author of, or a contributor to, books and articles on public international law, the law of outer space, the Canadian Constitution and federalism, Canada/U.S. boundary waters, labour law, international and Canadian human rights matters, and several others subjects.
